

The Ambulance will always be there for you,
but the bill won't.

PHOTOGRAPHER OR SOURCE:
Michael Marston ePixel Images
COPYRIGHT: © The State of Queensland

From 1 July 2011, Queenslanders will no longer be required to pay the Community Ambulance Cover Levy saving $113 on your electricity bill.

Toward Tomorrow's Queensland

Queensland Government

About the removal of the Community Ambulance Cover Levy – saving $113 on your electricity bill.

What happens now? Do I still have the same high level of Ambulance Cover?

Yes. All Queensland residents will enjoy free Ambulance Cover throughout Australia. The Government will now fund the cost of the Ambulance service through its annual budget.

What if I was exempt from the levy (e.g. Seniors Card Holder or Pensioner)?

You will continue to receive free Ambulance Cover.

When is the levy abolished?

The levy will no longer be charged after 1 July 2011.

What should I do if my electricity account still has the Ambulance Cover levy on it?

Your electricity account should only include a charge for the number of days up to and including 30 June 2011. If you are concerned the levy has been charged for days after this date please contact your electricity retailer or electricity provider.

For more information visit www.ambulancecover.qld.gov.au

or contact your electricity retailer or electricity provider.